Greetings to all our Covenant Partners,

I want to start off by telling you how special you are to us. Because of your partnership, we are able to do more for the Kingdom each & every day. In 13 countries throughout all Central & into South America, lives are being touched & changed & this not to mention the countries of Africa, Japan, Germany & many others that have been touched by the Vision of LWT in the past. Every day when I enter into our US Headquarters, I see a sign hanging from the ceiling that says "Making Disciples Through Training & Demonstration". That's my life in 6 words. We live what we teach & teach what we live.

In everything we do in life, it should always give God the Glory. This month as I sought God for what I was to be writing about, I felt Him leading me to honor a person who is very important in my life and calling. Through this letter I pray that hearts will be touched and that relationships will be renewed & changed forevermore. The Word says in Mark 3:25 "And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand."

On November 3, 1991, I met a person that would forever change my life. She was beautiful, smart, caring, and oh yeah did I say beautiful? We met through some mutual friends. Yes, you guessed it, a blind date. I am sure some of you have had those blind dates that make history in the wrong way, but this one made history like no other. She invited me to church on that date & I went & received Jesus and then it came time to meet the family. I had no idea that the family I was meeting was anything out of the ordinary but they were, being she was the youngest daughter of Dr. James & Marion Zirkle, the founders of LWT. Of course, we were married & here we are today. I have been blessed with wonderful children & a life that most dream about. Without Debbie, I am not sure where I would be today. Thanks Angel!

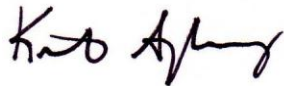

Now marriage will teach you a lot if you are teachable. Here recently, I was reading & praying & turned to Ephesians 5 where it talks about God's view of marriage. I got to verse 25 where it says, "Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the church & gave Himself for her". Right then, I saw a picture of a child saying I love you this much & his arms were stretched as far as they could reach in each direction. From that, I moved to the cross that Jesus once hung on. With every true example of real love, you will see arms and hands extended away from that person. I am to love my wife as Christ loved the church with NO limitations or rules but instead unconditionally. Real Christ-like love knows no boundaries and asks for nothing in return. You may say that this is talking to the husband & that is true but you can read about the same type of love in Proverbs 31:10-31 which is to the woman. God called love to be a two way street & when we are focused on others needs being taken care of, ours are also taken care of.

Now in the first part I noted what Mark 3:25 says about a house divided. What happens to that house? It cannot stand! With divorce rates at an all time high, we must make sure our house is set in the Word like never before. The success of your marriage is key to your ministry. I can't help but wonder what happened when I read about this person or that person who got divorced. We seem to want to point fingers more if they are in ministry but they made the same covenant you made to the same God. Ministers are just easy targets. But that's what the devil wants.

I want to encourage you today to step back & look at that person who God has brought into your life. See what you can do to make their life today and every day to become paradise for them.

I want you to know that you are loved and prayed for daily. We want to hear from you. So, please send us your prayer requests and testimonies. Just as Paul told the church in Philippians that they were partakers with him, you are also partakers with us.

Keep Reaching Forward,

Dr. Keith Spanberger
